MEDIA RELEASE

Date: 10 September 2007

As the Department of Public Works is mandated with the provision of infrastructure accommodation for the State and maintenance of government properties, the Real Estate is expected to encourage youth and women participation in the Public Sector, property market. The role then means that our major stakeholders are contractors and consultants within the property and construction sectors.

Taking a look at the construction industry at large, the Department is facing a challenge of shortage of skills in the built environment i.e. Civil Engineers, Electrical Engineers, Mechanical Engineers, Quantity Surveyors as well as Architects. Therefore, the KwaZulu-Natal Department of Public Works is hosting a briefing whereby National diplomates and prospective employees, in the field of engineering as per above-mentioned disciplines are invited and will be addressed by the MEC, Mrs Lydia Johnson and General Managers in Operations, Corporate Services and Real Estate Directorates.

The Department is committed to assist prospective employees on technicalities that might disqualify them from being considered. They will be informed about the selection procedure and what the department expect from them when responding to the vacancy. The presenters will also highlight a number of vacancies available in the department as well as salary package thereof.
