

public works

Department:
Public Works
PROVINCE OF KWAZULU-NATAL

MEDIA BULLETIN 17 – 21 /11/2014

Media	Topic & Reporter	Date & Page	Rating	Analysis
The Mercury	Royal cultural centre probed: Bongani Hans SAPA	Monday 17 November 2014; p. 4	Negative	The article portrays a negative public understanding on the part of construction institutions that would be affected in job creation efforts and the adjudication as well as awarding of tenders.
The Mercury	Building of KZN schools to stop: Leanne Jansen	Monday 17 November 2014 p.4	Negative	The negative depiction of financial constraints on the part of the Public Works' client Department is in the spotlight but for the wrong. Non-payment of contractors leads to diminishing of jobs on the part of the provincial economy boost interventions.
The New Age	Residents of KwaDukuza to get new houses: Siboniso Shiba	Monday 17 November 2014; p.7	Positive	Ministry for Human Settlements and Public Works continue the milestone on service delivery in respect of infrastructure development
The Mercury: Business Report	Leaders pledge to grow the economy: Zuma commends outcome: Bloomberg SAPS	Monday 17 November 2014	Positive	Efforts undertaken by all interested parties to accelerate infrastructure development with an aim at creating employment with the African region
The Mercury: Business Report	Treasury moots tax-free savings accounts from March:	Monday 17 November 2014	Positive	The initiative creates an opportunity for individual citizens and entrepreneurs to inculcate the sense, encouragement and

“Working together to build unity and prosperity for all”

	Wiseman Khuzwayo			responsibility to save
The Witness	Save haven and tunnels under Nkandla but work is not finished: Pauli van Wyk	Monday 17 November 2014 p1	Negative	The Nkandla story has been for quite a long time in the media and it left negative effect on the part of Government and its stakeholder partners

Evaluation and Analysis:

Analysis reports reflected accordingly on each entry.

Recorded by: Vusi Shabalala

Date: 17 November 2014

“Working together to build unity and prosperity for all”